Dear Professor Foster,

I owe you many thanks for your kindness in sending me the list of errata you noticed in my book on Heat. I have noted them and hope to use them in preparing a table of errata – some of them I had already noticed but you have hit off 3 or 4 that had escaped

I have deserved it. For example for not entering into the definition of Temperature. At this point See Arts 14, 19, 26. Also as regards Unit quantity of Heat See Arts 20 & 21. For Specific heat & Thermal Capacity See Art thermometer See End of art 24.

etc. If you will be good enough to look over these parts you will find that most of the things that you "slanged" me me.

I think I also owe you thanks for a kind[reviewed in "Nature". Young men like myself always receive words of encouragement from their seniors with a feeling that comes near to gratitude, and I assure you it is no small pleasure to me to know that "on the whole" my last effort meets with your approval. I think however you found fault with me in one or two places where
